Examples of Old Student Projects

All these projects are about 20 years old. However, despite how old they are, I vividly remember the student who made this picture.

He plotted the points for the Earth in the background entirely out of his head. He had no picture, no grid, he just closed his eye for a minute and started typing.